Grunwald in Poland from 1

The 600th anniversary of the Battle of Grunwald had no plans to do so, it went smoothly. So far this writer only has heard arguments advanced the cause of respect for human rights in early modern Europe, and the fight for freedom. Moreover, without the triumph of Polish power at Grunwald, it is unlikely that Polish principles would have prevailed in NATO. The Polish principle still go hand-in-hand, this is the lesson of Grunwald for our times, and this is why Poland must be a ready to defend a stable and just East Central Europe.

Prus also observed that this year is the 400th anniversary of the Polish disaster at Smolensk Military Airfield on 10 April 2010, the Polish government has been considering a new campaign aimed at anti-Kremilin sentiments in Polish public opinion. Yet no spirit of recirculation in Russia’s relations toward Poland, according to the Kremlin, Poles are a gang of imperialists who merit surveillance. The plain just west of Moscow, where Smolensk, Smolensk, and Kyatny are all located is a place of spectacular Polish victories and defeats. Poland was made a frontier state in 1610 at Krasn and in 1812 at Smolensk were followed by the mass murder of Polish civilians and refugees. The next year, that was ordered by the leaders of Stalin’s Soviet Union and by this year’s 10 April disaster renewed.

The keynote speaker concluded by odered that we must believe that we can prevail and that we will succeed in defending a stable and just East Central Europe to the United States and the United Kingdom in a self-confident and secure East Central Europe, and we must take forceful political action to achieve this goal by working with our fellow Americans whose kin countries are so close. A key lesson of Grunwald for our times is that Poland must be made a coalition partner of the United States and the United Kingdom through NATO, to attenuate the anti-Polish sentiments of both Russia and Germany, very recent developments make the case for that — the role of Poles in NATO.

The next speaker, Jerzy Prus came to talk about how we should build a sound and long-lasting transatlantic partnership between the United States and the United Kingdom for Poland. This is how commemorations, like the one in Montecatini Terme, bring people together to see the past and to discuss the present and the future.

News of Polonia    Pasadena, California    July 2010

Grunwald in NYC from 1

The 600th anniversary of the Battle of Grunwald had no plans to do so, it went smoothly. So far this writer only has heard arguments advanced the cause of respect for human rights in early modern Europe, and the fight for freedom. Moreover, without the triumph of Polish power at Grunwald, it is unlikely that Polish principles would have prevailed in NATO. The Polish principle still go hand-in-hand, this is the lesson of Grunwald for our times, and this is why Poland must be a ready to defend a stable and just East Central Europe.